Cup Percussion 3

Having worked through Cup Percussion 1 and 2 activity sheets we are now starting to really understand how to play our 'cup instruments'. On this sheet we will be looking at a new pattern for you to try; it is 2 bars, or 8 beats in total.

If you get muddled, look back at Cup Percussion 1 and 2 activity sheets to remind yourself how to read these rhythms and note values (tea and co-ffee) and how to create these sounds using different parts of the cup.

Can you PASS THE CUP on beat 4?

Try playing the rhythms along to Let It Be by The Beatles <https://youtu.be/QDYfEBY9NM4>
These cup rhythms are great to play with other people too- learn this with someone at home and see if you can PASS THE CUP to them (you just need to place it in front of them) on the last beat of the pattern- it's brilliant when it works!
